

[24/06/08][21:07:34] -

Title: Uncommon Crustaceans

Author: Cpt. Piddlewash

In thee sacred trust
I be bestowin' our knowledge. Ne'er afore
hath sailor nor wench
set down in pen the
secrets o' Sosaria
fishing. Tis only by the will o' the Order of the Dragonfish
that I do.

Tis now up to you
to protect this
knowledge and earn
the trust o' the Order. This knowledge
can make you wealthy.
Guard it well.

Uncommon Crabs
apple crab:

Some say the apple crab be so named because
it makes good cider.
To this, I say yuck!
blue crab:

The blue crab can be identified by the fact that they be blue on the bottom.

dungeness crab:

The dungeness crab
was so named because
'twas first discovered
in a dungeon, later
it was discovered they could be found anywhere.

king crab:

The Order is not sure
who made this rascal
king, but we recon it
took some fast talkin'.

rock crab:

The rock crab be

uncommon mostly because
they often get stepped
on by accident.
Snow crab:

Contrary to popular
belief, the snow crab
is not found in snow.
They be in the water
with the rest o' the
crabs.

Uncommon Lobsters
Crusty lobster:

Juka like to use the
shells o' this lobster
for pie crust.

Fred lobster:

On occasion I be
wonderin' to meself,
who is Fred? and how did he get to name a
lobster?

Hummer lobster:

Some sailors say they can hear the hum of a hummer lobster. But I don't be seein' 'em
catch more than anyone
else.

Rock lobster:

The rock lobster be
uncommon mostly because
they often get st...
Wait, I think I used
that one already.

Shovel-nose lobster:

The shovel-nose lobster
has a flat, shovel like nose that it uses to dig into the sand and hide.

Spiny lobster:

Spiny lobsters be hard
on traps, sometimes when they try to get in a trap they tear it
to pieces.